

DIPLOMACY

Vol.60, Mar./Apr. 2020

Contents of Features

- 76 Egypt: Uncertain evaluation of former President Mubarak’s “legacy”
Emi Suzuki (Fukuoka Women’s University)

- 78 Libya: Division ensues with intervention from various countries
Amane Kobayashi (IEEJ)

TREND2020

- 82 U.S. Presidential Election: Super Tuesday – What was behind Biden’s come back
Yoso Furumoto (Mainichi Shimbun)

- 88 U.S. Presidential Election: Current situation of the Rust Belt
Ryuichi Kanari (Asahi Shimbun)

- 94 Japanese judiciary’s attempt at internationalizing: We must join the infrastructure development for international conflict resolution
Yoko Kamikawa (Diet Member, House of Representatives)

- 100 Anti-extradition bill protest and the Hong Kong society: A mixture of solidarity and division
Akiko Kurata (Tokyo University of Foreign Studies)

- 106 Strengthening of export control towards ROK and the free trade regime
Tomoyoshi Nakajima (ERINA)

FOCUS: Europe after BREXIT

- 112 Europe re-defined: The image of EU post-2020
EU was able to overcome various crises during the decade of 2010. However, expansion of populism and friction between U.S. and Europe is creating disharmony between Germany and France – two driving forces for European integration. How will EU develop during the decade of 2020?
Ken Endo (Hokkaido University)

- 120 Foreign policy strategy of “connectivity”: A mosaic-like approach towards Europe
A liberal international order that post-war Japan has relied on is facing a challenge. What can Japan and Europe, two forces that share similar values, can do to stand up to this challenge? The Director-General of the European Affairs Bureau outlines this strategy.
Yasushi Masaki (Director-General, European Affairs Bureau, MOFA)

- 126 Europe’s Indo-Pacific Strategy: EU in the era of Great Power competition
Europe’s grand strategy is being tested in an era of Great Power competition with the U.S., Russia, China in mind and facing grave challenges such as Middle East and immigration. What is the “connectivity strategy” of EU? What about the possibilities for collaboration between non-EU countries like Japan?
Michito Tsuruoka (Keio University)

- 132 Putin seeks “establishment of national sovereignty”
Russia’s Presidential election is coming up in 2024. What were the intentions behind President Putin’s sudden announcement on changing the Prime Minister and revising the Constitution?
Akiyoshi Komaki (Asahi Shimbun)

Feature:

Can Middle East avoid war?

Emergency Special Feature: Novel coronavirus shock

- 6 Cover story interview: Grand challenges posed to humanity by a viral disease
Shigeru Ormi (Vice Chair, Novel Coronavirus Expert Meeting at the PMO)
- 12 Postponement of President Xi Jinping's state visit to Japan: An opportunity for redefining basic principles of Japan-China relationship
Chinese President Xi Jinping's state visit to Japan has been postponed due to the spread of novel coronavirus. We should make use of this extra time to ponder about how Japan and China should cooperate within the context of Northeast Asia.
Akio Takahara (University of Tokyo)
- 18 Economic impact of the spread of China's novel coronavirus
Novel coronavirus is spreading at a much greater speed when compared to SARS in 2002. Production activities have halted, which has dramatically slowed Chinese economy and impacted world supply chains. This article analyzes the seriousness of these impacts through economic indicators.
Naoto Saito (Daiwa Institute of Research Ltd.)
-
- 24 From escalation to "an awkward stability"
How did the Middle East reach "stability" after heightened tensions between U.S. and Iran last year, followed by a proxy war and a looming crisis of a direct war between the two countries this January? Does "order" currently exist there? A unique Middle East analysis of 2020 from an authors' unique point of view.
Satoshi Ikeuchi (University of Tokyo)
- 32 Roundtable: Vulnerabilities of Arabic states increases "Iran threat"
International order in the Middle East is coming at a crossroads due to the escalation of U.S.-Iran conflict. Three experts discuss topics such as the Middle East Strategy of the U.S., future of Iranian economy, and challenges of Arabic states from a bird's-eye view.
Koichiro Tanaka (Keio University) Kunihiro Miyake (CIGS) Takuya Murakami (Middle East Institute of Japan)
- 50 "Russian" approach to the Middle East
Why does Russia support and collaborate with the Assad regime? Russia has created a unique presence in the Middle East through a flexible combination of a behavioral principle of "survival strategy" and a limited use of military force.
Hiroshi Yamazoe (NIDS)
- 56 Iraq is being played: Developments after the Iraq War and its uneasy relationship with Iran
Iraq's national power has stagnated due to the post-Iraq War policy of "distributing posts among religious and ethnic groups" bringing about corruption. Following the battle with IS, the momentum for political reform has been suppressed after the death of Soleimani by U.S. forces, which has raised the risks of internal dissatisfaction exploding.
Keiko Sakai (Chiba University)
- 62 Q&A: Middle East seen from Japan; Japan seen from the Middle East
From energy to culture, connections between Japan and Middle East have been diversifying. This article examines the current situation.
Shuji Hosaka (JIME-IEE Japan)
- Report from the Middle East :
- 68 Afghanistan: No clear road towards peace despite U.S.-Taliban peace deal
Masato Toriya (Sophia University)
- 72 Israel: Third election in a year and an unstable coalition government
Chie Ezaki (National Defense Academy)
- 74 Qatar: Independent diplomacy is again seen due to the recovery of its national power
Koji Horinuki (IEEJ)